

Are You an Effective Leader?

Online Course Announcement For Summer I Semester, 2009

“Learning Leader” EAC 496B, Section 601 No Prerequisite (Open to PBS and Staff)

In this online course, you will:

- Identify adult learning principles in the context of leadership.
- Learn definitions of leadership, leadership styles, and leader characteristics.
- Define vision, mission, goals, values, and ethics in leadership.
- Identify the adult life cycles and life transitions that impact learning.
- Experience 21st century skills for leadership, including creating a learning culture, building learning organizations, and developing team building skills.
- Apply principles of change and conflict management to leadership situations.

Register Now @

<http://www.distance.ncsu.edu/registration/index.html>

The course will be offered in an online environment which requires the students to have the first true leadership skills of time management, motivation, and basic computer and internet capabilities. Contact the instructor, Mr. Lin Carter at vfcarter@ncsu.edu for more information.